DECORATED PAPER... SO WONDERFULLY VERSATILE!

Decorated paper is always at the top of the list of our most adaptable products.

We can't think of a better way to spend an afternoon than decorating your house or wrapping gifts for your beloved with beautiful decorative paper. You only need a pair of scissor and a handful of creativity and imagination.

Each Rossi design triggers different feelings of nostalgia through past memories. They look beautiful on their own, paired by color, or mixed together like a paper patchwork quilt.

It is possible to use the paper to cover old books and boxes, to make paper chains, Christmas/Birthday decorations or even to make a pleated lampshade. It's so wonderfully versatile.

100% designed and printed in Florence – Italy.

Decorative papers collection by Giannini 1856

Rossi 1931 has acquired the exclusive rights on the logo and archives of the Florentine Artisanal Art Boutique Shop Giannini.

In agreement and with the collaboration of the last heiress Maria Giannini, the Rossi 1931 stationery and paper catalog is enriched with this beautiful new collection branded Giannini 1856.

Influenced by the artisanal traditions and hard work of her family during these past two centuries, Maria Giannini is now looking more into the present and the future, mixing classic and contemporary.

For this reason, Maria has chosen Rossi 1931, the leading brand of luxury stationery, to help her relaunch her family brand internationally.

All of the new products branded Giannini 1856 will be produced from scratch in the Borgo San Lorenzo (Florence) factory.

Xilografie

*Xilografie by Eleonora dei Conti Gallo da Osimo.
Drawings taken from popular archaic motifs
from the regions of Italy.*

*These new designs are printed on 120 gsm
high quality soft paper.*

This collection is only available in the size cm. 50x70 (inches 20x28).

Giannini 1856 - historical archive.

Later used in inexpensive book editions, block print decorations on paper (xylography) became popular in Europe from the 16th century onwards to decorate upholstery and humble dwellings.

The motifs, incised on wood, were initially imprinted by hand, later by a printing press.

Dated 1929, our xylography collection of Italian peasant art counts various patterns, each one representing ancient motifs from different Italian regions.

These motifs have inspired us to perpetuate their beauty on our line of decorative papers.

Domino papers

Before wallpaper could have been produced in continuous rolls, single sheets called "dominos" were printed and coloured by hand.

The "dominoterie" is a handcraft technique from the 18th century. The so-called "domino paper" has a pattern which is engraved in relief with floral or geometric designs, then painted by hand or stenciled.

The domino paper was traditionally used to cover books, boxes and caskets and decorate the insides of chests or cabinets. Walls of small rooms and corridors were often coloured with them as well. Finally, the inside of drawers were decorated with colourful domino paper.

Following the tradition of the 18th century style, the Italian company 'Rossi 1931' designs and produces romantically beautiful "domino" papers.

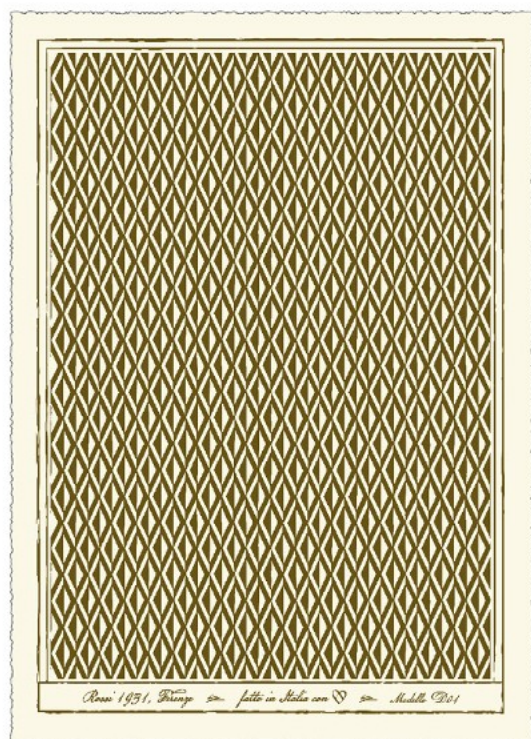

The pattern is a reproduction from an original domino paper.

- Colors: 1 printed color and 1 or 2 hand painted colors;
- Material: printed on paper, made in Fabriano, on a pure handmade rag;
- Size: Deckled sheet cm. 50,5 x 71 (inch. 20x28) / Pattern cm. 42 x 60 (inch. 16,5x23,6).

The paper sheet is made from 100% cotton in Fabriano. Every single sheet is individually made in the vat using the ancient techniques handed down over the centuries by the paper-makers.

This is why we can guarantee a final product of high quality, which is ecologically pure, made without optical brighteners or chemical additives and with a neutral pH value that guarantees its long-term durability.
